

Now Offering: Peer Support for People Living with an Injured Brain.

Have you sustained a brain injury at one point in your life, and now you face challenges from that injury? The Nebraska Injured Brain Network and Independence Rising are searching for individuals who live with an injured brain and who would like to receive Peer Support in the Kearney, Grand Island, Hastings, North Platte, and Scottsbluff areas.

Peer Support is based on the trust between two people who have each suffered a brain injury. The Peer Supporter shares learned lessons with the Peer Recipient to help facilitate the Recovery Journey.

The Recovery Journey of Living with an Injured Brain

What is Peer Support?

Peer supporters are individuals who are living with an injured brain and have experienced many unique challenges. As a peer supporter, we help others to understand, define, and pursue their unique recovery journey.

The Injured Brain Peer Supporter (IBPS) will meet with you, introduce the Recovery Journey, and invite and assist you to define your own Recovery Journey.

Who are the Nebraska Injured Brain Network and Independence Rising?

The Nebraska Injured Brain Network, (NIBN), is a Nebraska non-profit recently incorporated in October 2019 with our 501c3 status. We are a Peer-Run Self-Advocacy organization, and our Mission is to be a life line for people with an injured brain, uniting and empowering us and our families. Learn more at www.nibn.org.

Our partner, Independence Rising is a non-profit, 501c3, organization that delivers peer to peer services to assist people to pursue the quality of living they desire. The two organizations are collaborating to deliver a Peer Support program to people living with an injured brain, or Peers. Learn more at www.irnebraska.org.
